

Piko Partners & Programs Wed May 23 22:21:19 HST 2018

Name	Consortium for Capacity Building
Web	http://ccb.colorado.edu/
Description	CCB is an educational, outreach, and networking organization at the University of Colorado, Boulder. We focus on enhancing the value and use of climate, water, and weather information for the betterment of societies and the wellbeing of individuals. CCB's work occurs in both developed and developing countries to help the most vulnerable societies and populations mitigate and adapt to the impacts of a changing climate. Consortium partners are individuals and institutions working globally on capacity building in water, climate, and society issues.
Logo	The logo consists of a central image of a dead, gnarled tree silhouette against a sunset or desert landscape. Above the image, the words "CLIMATE", "WATER", "WEATHER", and "SOCIETY" are spaced out. Below the image, the text "CONSORTIUM FOR CAPACITY BUILDING" is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font.
Contact	Michael Glantz, michael.glantz@colorado.edu, Senior Scientist and Director