| Description | The School of Ocean and Earth Science and Technology was established by the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii in 1988 in recognition of the need to realign and further strengthen the excellent education and research resources available within the University. SOEST brings together four academic departments, three research institutes, several federal cooperative programs, and support facilities of the highest quality in the nation to meet challenges in the ocean, earth and planetary sciences and technologies. The SOEST mission is to: explore and characterize the environment; analyze and interpret 4-D geoscience data; develop, apply and transfer technology; and share results and serve data products. |
| Logo        |  The logo for the School of Ocean and Earth Science and Technology (SOEST) at the University of Hawaii. It features the word "soest" in a bold, blue, lowercase font on the left. To its right, the full name "School of Ocean and Earth Science and Technology" is written in a light blue, serif font. Below the name, the text "AT THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AT MANOA" is written in a very small, black, sans-serif font.  |
